FIRST CASTINGS SET AT BUCYRUS PLANT

By The Associated Press

BUCYRUS, O., March 25—The first finished castings were being poured today at Crawford Steel Foundry by independent unionists defying a 63-day CIO Steelworkers strike. Company officials said 120 of their 190 employees were back at work.

The "back-to-work" employes, who have been living in the plant since the middle of last week put a pass system into effect over the week-end, giving groups an opportunity to go home, bathe and change clothes. They were not hampered by the small picket line.

A working force was kept on hand at all times.

Church services were conducted yesterday in the plant at the request of the workers by Rev. J. D. Mumford, Lutheran pastor.

WOMEN'S G.O.P. CHIEF HITS FOREIGN POLICY

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 25 — Referring to what she termed "the dreadful mistakes" of the nation's foreign policy, Mrs. Katharine Kennedy Brown of Dayton, vice chairman of the Republican national committee, today called for the election of a Republican congress this year.

"We can see the dreadful mistakes of our foreign policy in the past 12 years—Yalta and Potsdam are only two — and the pitiful weakness of the present administration," she declared in an address prepared for delivery at the Middle West and Middle Atlantic Regional conference of the National Federation of Women's Republican Clubs.

"The need for the election of a Republican congress this year, which has the power to provide some strong leadership until we can elect a Republican president two years later is more than apparent," she said.

Mrs. Brown, who also is president of the Ohio Federation of Women's Republican Clubs, said "I agree that Russia does not want war now, but if things go on at their present trend, I am sure that if given all she asks in machinery, technical education, loans, etc., she will want war in five to 10, to 15 years, to realize her dreams of world domination—the goal of all dictators."

In a session before the regional conference opened today, the advisory board of the national federation indorsed a recommendation for one "wheatless day" each week, as an aid to the American food conservation program for relief of famine-threatened areas of the world.

Long Deferment Seen for New Draft Bill

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 25—The house military committee plans to hold the controversial universal military training bill over until next January and let the new congress wrestle with it.

Committee members said privately that a general, informal agreement had been reached to take no action until next year.

Among considerations in reaching such an agreement were these: The Army is fighting for a one-year extension of the war-time draft and does not want both Selective Service and universal training at the same time; if the draft is extended, as indicated, but for less than a year, the committee wants to review the entire military picture just before expiration of the renewed draft act, it is election year, and constituents generally seem split over the issue.

Screw in Lung Fatal To Child

Marion Girl, 4, Dies After Operation To Remove Metal Object.

Operation for removal of a screw from a lung of a four-year-old Marion child resulted in her death at Children's hospital in Columbus Saturday.

Kay Frances Day, daughter of Mrs. Betty Day of 155 McWilliams court and Hugh A. Day of Mansfield, died about 2:30 p. m. of shock and hemorrhage following the operation at an earlier hour Saturday in which a metal screw was removed from her right lung. She had been at the hospital since Feb. 25.

A ward of the Marion county children's home, the girl was at the home when the accident happened which cause her illness. It was about five weeks ago, as she was playing at the Children's home, that she swallowed the object, and when she became ill a physician was called. An X-ray in the physician's office revealed the screw, and the child was taken to the hospital where four attempts at different times were made to remove the object from her lung. Pneumonia had developed.

Born July 13, 1941, in Bucyrus, Kay Frances was a daughter of Betty Egger Day and Hugh Day, the mother a native of Little Sandusky and the father of Moscow, O. She was a member of the cradleroll department of Emmanuel Baptist church.

Surviving with her parents are a brother, Larry Allen Day, 3, and a sister, Mary Alice Day, three months.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday at 2 p. m. in the Schaffner-Denzer funeral home on East Center street by Dr. C. E. Hershey, pastor of Emmanuel church. Burial will be at Little Sandusky. Friends may call at the funeral home.

UAW STRIKE CLOSES PLANT AT CLEVELAND

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 25—CIO United Automobile Workers struck today at the Midland Steel Products Co., closing the west side plant in a dispute involving wages, working conditions and a new contract.

A plant guard said approximately 300 pickets massed at plant gates and that no workers attempted to report for the 7 a. m. shift.

The concern makes frames and parts for a half dozen major automobile manufacturers, employing about 1,500 members of the union and approximately 100 supervisory and office employes.

A spokesman for the company issued a statement last night declaring Local 486 of the union had "not notified us of its intention to strike the plant."

John Harmody, temporary chairman of the local's grievance committee, said a mass meeting of members yesterday "reaffirmed its desire for definite action," in connection with a strike vote taken last fall.

Union officials did not disclose the details of the issues over wages and working conditions but declared the company had "stalled" on these issues and on negotiation of a new contract.

15 ENTER W. E. PLANT

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, March 25 — Supervisory employes of the Westinghouse Electric Corp. entered its East Pittsburgh plant without hindrance from pickets today for the first time in the 70-day-old strike of the CIO electrical workers. Fifteen supervisors got into the plant under a court order which limited pickets to 10 at each of the two gates, each picket to keep 10 feet apart.

Vet, Back for Reunion With Family, Finds Parents Dead

Years and months of an anticipated reunion with his family ended in sadness and disappointment for one Marion World War II Navy man who arrived home yesterday—a civilian for the first time in six years. Today he is dividing his time between visiting the neighborhoods in which his family lived and sitting in Room 305 at Hotel Harding, hoping for a message from some member of his family or relatives.

This young man is Donald Orville Reeder, 26, pharmacist mate 1/c, U. S. Navy, veteran of six years of service in the South Pacific who received his discharge at the separation center at Great Lakes, Ill., Saturday at 10:05 a. m. (He knows because he just happened to be looking at his watch when his name was called).

Finds Parents Dead

When Sailor Reeder arrived from Chicago yesterday he went to Evans road, where his family lived when he enlisted for service at Columbus in 1940. There neighbors informed him that his parents had died, but were unable to tell him the whereabouts of his two young brothers, Gene, who he thinks is about 10, and Cecil, about 9 years of age.

As near as he can determine, Mr. Reeder thinks his parents, Delmar Reeder and Flora Mae Carey Reeder, died in 1942. At about that time he was "pretty busy" around Saipan. Reeder, who never got home after going into service, says that after the first few months he was out, that he did not receive any mail from his family. He didn't receive much mail, he says, mostly because he was not in one place for any length of time, and much of it failed to catch up with him.

Served On Hornet

Reeder served on the Hornet, the McCall and the Jubilant, and was on the Hornet when the aircraft carrier engaged in her famous

UNRRA Weighs Slash in Grain for Liquor

By The Associated Press

ATLANTIC CITY, March 25—UNRRA's important inner council on supplies was reported ready today to recommend sharp curtailment of the use of grain for making liquor or for fattening hogs and chickens on the grounds that it can be better used to feed the world's hungry.

This was the first major development to emerge from a tightly-deadlocked session called to thresh out a demand from money-poor nations dependent upon UNRRA relief for an "equal break" with countries holding fi-

COURT BARS RUSSO-GERMAN SECRET TREATY

Nuernberg Judge Denies Hess Right To Quote From Supposed Pact.

By The Associated Press

NUERNBERG, Germany, March 25 — An objection by the Russian prosecutor prevented counsel for Rudolf Hess from reading into the court record today excerpts from what he called a secret treaty concluded by Germany and Russia three days before the Nazi attack on Poland.

The lawyer asserted before the international military tribunal that the alleged treaty fixed spheres of influence in eastern Europe and that details were contained in an affidavit submitted by Dr. Friedrich Gaus, former German ambassador to Moscow.

Soviet prosecutor R. A. Rudenko jumped up to object to the reading of "surprise documents" before they were translated and submitted to the prosecution.

When Chief Justice Sir Geoffrey Lawrence sustained the objection, Hess' lawyer countered with

Wants Molotov

"In that case I must ask permission to call Soviet Foreign Commissar Molotov to establish if this agreement was not actually concluded."

On provision of the alleged secret agreement, the attorney said, was that Germany "declared itself uninterested in three Baltic states—Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia—and Finland."

Earlier, a document introduced by Hess' counsel claimed that the former deputy fuehrer had warned the British government, a month after he parachuted into Scotland, that the Nazis planned to establish concentration camps and to starve the British population if an attempt were made to continue the war after an invasion of the British Isles.

This threat was contained in the minutes of a Hess interview with Lord Simon June 10, 1941. Only selected portions of the 70-page transcript were read into the record.

Swarthy Ernst Wilhelm Bohle, English-born and South African-reared leader of the Nazi party's "foreign organization," grinned at Hess from the witness stand while the defense read Bohle's affidavit that he "dispersed fears and qualms" of Winston Churchill in a personal interview nine years ago.

Tells of Trick

Bohle swore that the German Embassy arranged through the British foreign office for him to spend more than an hour talking with Churchill at the latter's London flat in October, 1937. The upshot was, he alleged, that Churchill abandoned plans for an inquiry by the house of commons into Nazi activities in England.

Under cross examination by John Harlan Amen, Deputy United States prosecutor, Bohle denied that his organization had connections with the German-American Bund in the United States.

Amen produced a report on the interrogation of the former first secretary of the German embassy in Washington, Von Strempel, who after his capture in Germany, told questioners he was confident Bohle's organization had give the Bund instructions when and how to hold mass meetings and handle propaganda.

TRUMAN CARRIES OUT SHIFT OF DIPLOMATS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 25 — President Truman carried out a two-way diplomatic shift today which placed new stress of the importance this country attaches to the United Nations Organization.

The Chief Executive designated John G. Winant to be American representative on the UNO economic and social council and W. Averell Harriman to succeed Winant as ambassador to Britain.

Meanwhile, Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith headed for Moscow by plane to fill the post Harriman vacated several weeks ago when he resigned as ambassador to Russia.

Harriman's appointment, announced by the White House late Saturday along with that of Winant, come as more of a surprise because of Harriman's frequently expressed desire to return to private business and live in this country.

The Winant-Harriman shift, coupled with Smith's departure for Moscow, revived speculation about the possible appointment of a new ambassador to Italy.

Baruch Urges "Business Court" To Repair Inflation Damage

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 25—Bernard M. Baruch called today for a "high court of commerce" to repair the inflationary damage he said has been done by hiking wages and prices while cutting taxes.

Cautioning that "the race of selfishness is on," the elder statesman of two world wars pleaded for another year of price control coupled with a firm grip on wages. But he said there must be one overriding objective—greater production.

In testimony prepared for the house banking committee, the 75-year-old Baruch lashed out at the government's new wage-price policy pegged to the recent, 18½ cent an hour steel workers pay boost.

"This will be followed by increases all along the line," he told the committee commenting on administration request to keep OPA alive a year beyond its present June 30 expiration date.

Program In Detail

Baruch laid down this 13-point program:

1. Stop increasing the money supply.

2. Stop decreasing taxes until the budget is balanced. "There may be wisdom in reinstating the $6,000,000,000 tax reduction."

3. "Stop bunking the public by saying wage increases can be granted without increase in price levels."

4. "Do not fear to increase prices or wages where necessary to get and stimulate production."

5. "Continue price controls subject to indicated modifications for a year.

6. "Avoid favoritism to any particular group.

7. "Take care of those between the millstones—clerks, government employes, pensioners, et al.

8. "Make surpluses of goods in military hands available to compensate for shortages.

9. "Stimulate . . . small business.

10. "Take stock before blindly lending — making inventories of our goods, our cash, our credit before we increase the pressure on these.

11. "Cut government costs, including federal, state, county and city. . . .

12. "Eliminate all strikes or lockouts for a year. . . .

13. "Set up a high court of commerce — a sort of supreme economic counsel which can decide questions involved in the above points and related subjects."

AXLE FIRM FACING ANTI-TRUST CHARGE

Timken-Detroit Co. Accused of Illegal Restrictions.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 25—Attorney General Tom Clark today announced the filing of a civil action charging the Timken-Detroit Axle Co., one of the nation's largest manufacturers of axles and axle forgings, with anti-trust violations.

Clark said the complaint was filed in Detroit and alleged Timken-Detroit is engaged in agreements and understandings restraining trade in axles and axle forgings.

Clark's announcement said "specifically, the complaint alleges that Timken - Detroit controls patents covering certain multi-wheel automotive units essential in the manufacture of large trucks and buses designed to carry heavy loads.

"Timken-Detroit, it is charged, has refused to license truck and bus manufacturers under its multi-wheel unit patents unless the manufacturers purchase their axles and axle forgings from Timken-Detroit. The axles are unpatented."

Clark said the complaint further alleged that Timken-Detroit, in recent months, cancelled patent licensing agreements containing alleged illegal restrictions and substituted new agreements and understandings. He added:

"The new agreements and understandings, however, were skillfully designed to continue the illegal restrictions imposed upon Timken-Detroit's licensees."

The suit, it was stated, seeks to enjoin Timken-Detroit from enforcing any patents related to inventions which Timken-Detroit has used in carrying out the alleged illegal licensees and agreements.

Clark said the suit "is part of the justice department's current drive to free postwar production from the hampering effect of illegal restrictive patent agreements."

POWERS AGREE TO DELAY OF IRAN QUESTION

Reported Russian Agreement To Withdraw Comes as Conferences Convenes.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 25—United Nations leaders decided to limit today's security council meeting to formalities, including a message from President Truman, and delay until tomorrow all discussion of the Iranian issue.

The agreement came after the American group, headed by Secretary of State Byrnes and Edward R. Stettinius Jr. received word that delay of one day was agreeable to the Russian delegation under Ambassador Gromyko.

The development gave additional time for the American, British, Iranian and Russian delegations here to receive official information on the reported Soviet agreement to pull the Red army out of Iran, and also to get instructions from their governments as to how each should proceed on the case when it does come up before the council.

The one sure move thus far seen by officials here was that the United States definitely would insist on a report from both Russia and Iran on whatever any agreement has been made, and attempt to put behind any agreement, assuming it is approved here, the full prestige of the council to assure its enforcement.

Seen as UNO Victory

The break in the Iranian issue, announced by Moscow radio, came on the eve of the council's opening at Hunter college here (2:30 p. m. EST) and was immediately hailed by officials as a victory for the United Nations system.

The Iranian question remained the most important for the council to take up, however, and this seemed to be done on a motion by the United States to have Russia and Iran make a report on their agreement.

Secretary of State Byrnes arrived late yesterday to represent the United states in the Iranian debate. He brought a message of Welcome to the United Nations from President Truman and was scheduled to deliver that with a brief speech of his own.

The opening marks the beginning of the United Nations as a permanent world peace organization in the United States. Simultaneously the council's military staff committee, high command of the armies destined to carry out the council's orders, arranged to meet secretly at a Manhattan hotel.

To Start at Once

Military members said the staff committee would get to work immediately on plans for having each of the United Nations place land, sea and air forces at the disposal of the organization.

UNO's economic and social council, to which President Truman has named Ambassador John G. Winant as American member, will meet in late May and a general assembly of all 51 United Nations is scheduled for September.

Meanwhile the 11-nation atomic commission, made up of the same governments that comprise the security council probably will meet later in the spring, and the security council itself will function in almost continuous session from now on, being forbidden by UNO rules to adjourn at any time for more than two weeks.

In preparation for today's council meeting a huge crew of workmen have in two weeks converted Hunter college in the Bronx from a wartime Wave training school to the temporary "capitol of the world."

Good Communications

Its activities are governed by a wide-open press policy and the most modern means of communication, including television, have been marshalled to keep the world informed of all it does.

On the bright side of the ledger is in addition to the latest developments in Iran, the Russian withdrawal from the Danish island of Bornholm and the steady Red army troop movements out of the Chinese territory of Manchuria.

But since Premier Stalin's declaration of support for the United Nations last Friday the easing of tension here has been very marked and last night favorable reaction to the Moscow radio announcement was general and enthusiastic.

BATTLES RAGE NEAR MUKDEN

Chinese Forces Reported In Clashes as "Truce Team" Inspection Is Studied.

By The Associated Press

CHUNGKING, March 25 — "Pitched battles" between Central government and Communist troops near Mukden were described here today as the government and Communists were reported on the verge of agreeing to send truce-inspection teams into Manchuria.

Dispatches from Mukden said that four regiments of Communist reinforcements under Gen. Lin Piao had hotly contested government entry into Fushun, important coal center 30 miles east of Mukden.

The Communist forces now are withdrawing to the northeast under the pressure of government forces, which are continuing to advance, the report declared.

Ho Ping Pao, Chinese army newspaper, reported the occupation of Fushun and said another Central government column driving up the Dairen-Mukden railroad from the south had occupied the rail center of Liaoyang, 30 miles south of Mukden. Liaoyang is approximately halfway between Mukden and the great steel center of Anhan, where the column was reported yesterday.

The Fushun battle report was the first indication of any serious clash between the two forces in the area, where observers have feared that such an engagement might provide the spark needed to rekindle the smouldering civil war.

Meanwhile, the Communist New China Daily News published a Manchurian dispatch saying that Gen. Chow Pao-chung, commander of the pro-Communist

Registrations On, Up Grade at Board of Elections Office

Business is picking up at the Marion county board of elections, according to Mrs. Nora Fetter, election board clerk.

Mrs. Fetter reported three more registrations and seven more transfers and said today there were many servicemen coming into her office to check on their voting status. She pointed out that it is as important that persons transfer or register, because those who have moved from one precinct to another and who fail to transfer will not be eligible to vote.

Deadline for registration will close April 8. Registrations to date total 16,108, about the same as last year's, but with many persons still coming in the number is expected to be boosted considerably before the April 6 deadline. There still are approximately 1,900 persons in the county who would be eligible to vote if they register, Mrs. Fetter estimates.

Register To Vote in May Primaries

If you fall into one of these classifications you must register with the board of election by April 8 to be eligible to vote in the May 7 primaries:

1. If you will be 21 years old before the general election.

2. If you have failed to vote in any election within the last two years.

3. If you have moved here from other towns and have resided here 30 days prior to the election. If you have moved from one precinct to another you must transfer but need not reregister.

4. If you have changed your name through marriage or for any other reason.

Y-Indus and Morral Rated Favorites in Tonight's Gold Medal Battles

LaRue and Universal Fives In Role of Underdogs at Y

By JIM DARBY

Y-Indus cagers will be shooting for their second independent tournament title as they engage LaRue Merchants in the Gold Medal tournament semi-finals tonight at 7:30 on the Y's lower gym. They recently took five opponents into camp to win the North Central Ohio independent tournament for the benefit of the March of Dimes and now emerge as favorites in the current tourney.

On the upper floor at the same time Morral Supply Co. will battle Universal Cooler to determine the other finalist for Saturday's windup. Losers of tonight's semi-finals will fight for third place Saturday as a sideshow to the championship event.

Record Is Super

Y-Indus has a record of 34 wins out of 37 starts in this season's campaign and has knocked off McMillen, Shorty's Pros of Marysville and Kirkpatrick in this tournament. The LaRue Merchants have bested Green Camp, Kirkpatrick Ex-Hi's and Burson's of Carey in previous Gold Medal sessions.

Morral Supply Co. with a record of 15 wins and three losses will meet a Universal Cooler team which has had a very spotty record and must be regarded as the underdog. The Cooler aggregation finished the season with eight wins and six losses to wind up in fourth place in the Y M C A. Independent league. In this tournament they have defeated Italy and Delaware. Morral has sent DeMolay Alumni, Marion Vets and Roecker's Bakery packing so far in the tournament.

New Faces Noted

Although the name remains, the playing roster of the Universal Cooler team has changed greatly since they fought their earlier league battles. Many of the original Cooler players are with the newly formed LaRue Merchant's outfit. Thus, comparative scores and won-lost records concerning Universal Cooler are more than ordinarily futile.

A plaque will be given the champion and a total of 77 medals will be awarded to individual players. Each of the ten players on the first three teams get a medal and awards are provided for the first, second and third all-tourney teams. High point man for the tourney and for an individual game will get medals as will the player making the most spectacular shot. On display in the Y M.C.A. window are 55 of the medals to be given. Outstanding players will be nominated for All-America honors, competing with players from other Gold Medal tournaments being held simultaneously.

Capacity Crowds

The tournaments are under the over-all sponsorship of the Central States Basketball Headquarters at Indianapolis, Ind.

Although all sessions have games going on at both Y gyms, fans have been turned away from every session. Capacity of each gym runs between 185 and 200. Admission is 25 cents.

Owen Back to Cards?

ORLANDO, Fla., March 25 — Catcher Mickey Owen, whom the Brooklyn Dodgers bought from St. Louis in 1946 for $65,000 and two players may wear a Cardinal uniform again this year. The Dodgers are reported seeking southpaw pitcher Max Lanier in return for the 29-year-old veteran now awaiting his Navy discharge.

President Branch Rickey had "no comment" on the rumored deal, but Manager Leo Durocher was said to have held a telephone conversation with St. Louis officials in St. Petersburg yesterday.

• • •

Etten Gets Job

SARASOTA, Fla. — Nick Etten, regular first-baseman of the New York Yankees the past three years, apparently will open the season at his old post. In a wholesale shift of personnel, Manager Joe McCarthy brought Etten to his No. 1 team and sent Johnny Sturm and Buddy Hassett to his No. 2 Bradentown squad.

• • •

Voiselle Looks Good

MIAMI, Fla., Although Manager Mel Ott hasn't said so, it looks like Bill Voiselle will be the opening day pitcher for the New York Giants on April 16. The big right-hander became the first Giant hurler to pitch a complete nine-inning game yesterday when he limited Boston to seven hits in defeating the Braves 7-2.

• • •

Philly Series Tied

MIAMI BEACH — The Philadelphia Phillies knotted their city series with the Athletics yesterday, 3-2. The teams have two victories apiece and will inaugurate the season at Shibe park with exhibition tilts April 13-14. Development of Bill Peterman 200-pound, six foot-two inch catcher, may plug the Phils gap at the backstop post.

OHIO HIGH SCHOOLS MAY ALL-STAR GAME

All-State Gridders To Clash at Toledo Aug. 16.

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., March 25—The Ohio High School Football Coaches association will put on all-star high school football game here next August 16, it was announced today by Jack Mollenkpf, coach at Toledo Waite and president of the association.

The game will be part of a statewide grid clinic to be sponsored by the association and the association plans to make it an annual affair.

In selection of the players it will be mandatory to invite boys who have been graduated and who were selected on The Associated Press, International News Service and United Press All-Ohio teams for last season. In event of a conflict, The Associated Press team will take precedence.

In order to have two squads of 24 players each, a "coaching school committee," consisting of six members of the coaches' association and one from each of five high school districts and representatives of the three press associations, will make additional selections.

The squad will be brought to Toledo on Aug. 9 and will practice twice daily until the night of the game.

This year, Paul Bixler, head coach at Ohio State and three of his assistants, will be in charge of one squad. The coaching staff for the other squad will be selected next week.

TWO MARION BOWLING TEAMS IN MONEY CLASS

Fahey and Banko Place High In Inter-City Meet.

Fahey Bank and Banko Bar and Grill, only Marion teams in the intercity bowling tournaments over the week-end, became the first Marion kegsters to plant themselves in the money in any class so far.

Fahey Bank rolled 2,765 to take second place in class A team competition, behind General Industries of Elyria with 2,823. Banko Bar and Grill bowled 2,662, to take eighth place among the class A teams. Teams with scores above 2,365 are considered to be in the money in this class at the present stage.

Leaders remained the same in all classes. In the booster team and doubles classes Carey Recreation of Carey and Dragomir and Vesmar of Massillon took over second place.

Marion Golden Gloves Champs To Seek State Titles Tuesday

Fighters who won their weight divisions in the recent Golden Glove AAU tournament will participate in a state invitation tournament at Memorial hall in Columbus tomorrow night, a spokesman for the Y's Men's Service club said today. The district champs will be taken to Columbus at the club's expense.

Those entering the state tournament are Herbert Wilson of Springfield, heavyweight, Pat Patterson of Delaware, light-heavyweight, Leland Strahm of Carey, middleweight, Willard Light of Sulphur Springs, welterweight, Charles Moore of Delaware, lightweight, Jim Detrick of Marion, featherweight, Lawrence Strahm of Carey, bantamweight.

Winners in their divisions will be sent to Boston, with all expenses paid, to fight in a national AAU boxing tournament.

Marion Men Nab Third in Elks' Pin Tourney

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., March 25—Missing a perfect game by five pins, Chet Glass of Springfield rolled 11 straight strikes yesterday to help put him and Bob Palmer, also of Springfield, in first place in the doubles division of the fifth annual Elks state bowling tournament. Glass and Palmer hit for 1,366.

Marshall and Buffo of Canton were in second place in the doubles with 1,307. Robert Disbennet and Art Wintersteller of Marion had 1,206, good for a third-place tie.

PHILADELPHIA, March 25 — Bert Bell, commissioner of the National Football league, says he 'feels sure' his circuit will recognize the new Association of Professional Football League—an organization of three minor loops that hopes "ultimately" to become the "governing body of all professional football."

Mar-O-Del Golfers Launch New Season

Mar-O-Del golf course was officially opened yesterday with approximately 80 people playing the course, County Treasurer Marion Hinklin, co-operator, reported today. The greens were in excellent shape, Mr. Hinklin said, but the fairways were rather muddy after Saturday night's rain.

No scores were turned into club officials as the day's play was considered only practice. The club will be open every day for the rest of the golfing season. Mr. Hinklin said a professional would be signed within the next few days.

INDIANS DROP PAIR BUT BOB LOOKS GOOD

Feller Outhurls Vander Meer, Calms Mike McCormick.

By The Associated Press

TAMPA, Fla., March 25—Rapid Robert Feller was the only Indian to come out ahead yesterday as Cleveland dropped two more games to the Cincinnati Reds.

Besides besting Johnny Vander Meer, the National leaguers' fireballer, in a mound duel, Feller squared accounts with Mize McCormick, the Reds' hussy outfielder, by setting him down on strikes twice in the first four innings. McCormick slammed Feller's second pitch for a home run last week as the veteran right-hander made his first start of the Grapefruit season.

Mize, however, was not to be denied entirely. He drove in three runs with a single and double off Feller's successor, Allie Reynolds, whom the Reds pounded for five markers in the eighth to win the opener, 7-3. The second game, with both teams using mostly reserve players, went to Cincinnati, 7-5.

In the first four rounds, Feller allowed only two hits, fanned five and issued but one pass, leaving the game with a 3-1 advantage. The Indians got six safeties off Vander Meer, who gave up no walks and marked up one strikeout in five innings.

Nate Andrews kept the Cleveland bats silent for the middle three innings and got the win. The loss was charged to Reynolds. The Reds got 11 hits, the Indians seven.

Bespectacled Hal Erickson got credit for the second victory. The team triumphed with Nos. 3 and 4 for the Reds over the Indians this spring.

AGGIES TO PLAY N. C. FOR TITLE TUESDAY

Ohio State, Beaten 60-57, To Battle in Prelim.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 25—Led by Bob (Foothills) Kurland, the Oklahoma Aggies defending National Collegiate Athletic association basketball champions, will invade New York's Madison Square Garden tomorrow night in a victory-making attempt to become the first two-time winner of the eight-year-old tournament.

The Stillwater, Okla., Cowboys, fresh from their 52-35 thumping of California which followed an easy 44-29 conquest of Baylor to enable them to retain their western regional NCAA title, will be opposed by North Carolina, whose overall 30-4 won and lost record compares favorably to the Aggies' 30 wins in 32 games.

The White Phantoms of Chapel Hill earned the right to meet the Aggies in the east-west playoff by eliminating New York university 57-49, and Ohio State 60-57 in overtime, to capture the eastern regional NCAA crown.

Ohio State, whose loss to North Carolina Saturday night was its second overtime defeat in the last two eastern finals, will meet California in a preliminary to the Aggies-Tarheels struggle.

State Cage Championship Go to Middletown, Farme

By HAROLD HARRISON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Middletown and Farmer today occupied the seats of the mighty in Ohio High school basketball.

The Middies polished off an undefeated season at Toledo Saturday night by taking the Class "A" championship for the second time in three years. Farmer hit the jackpot in its first appearance in a final state tournament and won the Class "B" crown at Springfield.

Middletown's route through the final tournament included an easy victory over Toledo Woodward and then a thrilling 42 to 41 contest of Akron North in a championship engagement.

Farmer, which dismissed a single six-footer in its starting lineup, breezed past Bradford to 39, in its opener and then wrapped up the title with a 32 conquest of Worthington.

Middletown had to come from behind to snare its title. The result between Worthington and Farmer was utterly frightful, the way with the lead changing hands 11 times.

For more than three quarters the Middletown - Akron North game it appeared as if the latter might pull a major upset and trip the Middies despite their only fair season record.

Four of the Middletown players won place on the all-tournament team selected by the newspapermen. There was a tie for the forward spots among Akron North's Jim Smithy and Middletown's Don Bolton and Orm Blevins. Paul Lansaw at center and Milton Wells at guard on the other Middletown team honored and the other guard position went to Jim Harris of Bellaire Liverpool.

The championship Tigers of Farmer placed three players on the Class 'B' all-tournament team. Leignion Fritz and Bill Lord were named to the forward positions and Robert Beegle was selected for guard. Two others named on the team were Tom Hartman of Worthington at Center and Otis Rasor of Bradford at guard.

REUTHER DARES FOE TO SECRET DEBATE

By The Associated Press

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 25—Walter P. Reuther challenged R. J. Thomas today to a debate "with no punches pulled" in their fight for the presidency of the CIO's United Auto Workers.

The immediate reaction of Thomas, incumbent, was to accuse Vice President Reuther of "trying to break a caucus."

The Reuther forces distributed handbills at the convention, in which Thomas was challenged to meet his rival before the convention tonight at a special session.

The handbills portrayed Reuther as proposing "a night session with press and public excluded so that no punches need be pulled."

Upon their distribution Thomas was asked his answer by a reporter. "I haven't made up my mind," he said. "There aren't issues just between Reuther and me."

As the newsman turned to leave, Thomas motioned him back and said, "I have a caucus tonight and Reuther is just trying to break up my caucus."

Two Minor Accidents Reported to Police

Two minor accidents were reported to police over the week-end. Lewis L. Long, 16, of near Marion told police his car was hit at a right angle in the front end by a hit-skip driver at Sugar and Davids street Saturday at 7:20 p. m. The front bumper and headlight were damaged. The other car continued without stopping, Long said.

A collision was reported between cars driven by Arthur Coffey, 67, of 141 Uhler avenue and Emmett H. Steile, 25, of 135 North State street at East Center street and Grand avenue Sunday at 10:30 a. m. The Coffey car was struck in the rear when it stopped for the intersection, according to police records.

BURNS ARE FATAL TO HARDIN CO. WOMAN

Mrs. Ervine Nichols of Alger Dies in Kenton Hospital.

Special to The Star

KENTON, March 25—Mrs. Arvine Nichols, 16, of Alger, O., died Saturday morning in McKitrick hospital at Kenton, as the result of burns suffered Thursday when cleaning fluid which she was using to clean a coat at her home, caught fire from a spark from a stove, igniting her clothing.

Her husband extinguished the flames with his hands, but not before Mrs. Nichols had been critically burned about the face and body.

Funeral services were to be conducted today at 2 p. m. in Alger with Rev. McWhort officiating. Burial in Preston cemetery there.

Mrs. Nichols is survived by the husband, Ervie; the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Girlish Cole; four brothers, Thomas, Raymond, Arnold and Ernest; two sisters, Velma and Virginia, all of Alger. She was born in McGoffin county, Ky., July 7, 1928.

UAW

one by one, Murray denied:

1. That the United Steel Workers union, of which Murray is president, had any agreement with the UAW-CIO not to call a steel strike.

2. That the CIO did nothing to assist the General Motors strike.

3. That Murray was "delinquent" in his duty to lend personal assistance in the GM strike. Murray declared he personally offered to enter the negotiations and use the "full pressure of the CIO" to bring about a settlement.

4. That Murray and other CIO lieutenants had planned to come to the UAW convention and influence the Thomas-Ruether campaign.

Murray said the rumor regarding him and the GM fact-finding board was "circulated by defamers for the purpose of injuring the CIO."

Before Murray spoke his name was being bounced around freely by Thomas and Reuther.

Says Reuther Is "Dupe"

Thomas, who is seeking his seventh term as UAW president, said Reuther really was "running against Phil Murray for the presidency of the CIO and is opposing CIO policies."

He said the fiery, 38-year-old leader of the General Motors strike was a "dupe" of AFL leaders in a movement to draw the auto union into the AFL.

In his speech today, Murray was expected to denounce a rumor that he persuaded the General Motors fact-finding board last January to reduce its recommended wage increase from 24 to 19½ cents.

Both candidates in the UAW race—Thomas in a news conference and Reuther in a speech—have mentioned this rumor. They said it was originated by C. E. Wilson, president of General Motors.

Last night, Thomas told reporters jammed into his hotel room that Reuther took up Wilson's story and spread it around.

Says It Isn't So

Reuther, at a news conference of his own, said this was a "contemptible lie."

Murray had said before coming here that he would not take part in the UAW election campaign. The Thomas forces, however, continued to express their hope that Murray would give aid to their cause. The 2,000 delegates will vote on the candidate Wednesday.

Coal Peace Talks Enter "Crisis" Stage

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 25—Bituminous operators and John L. Lewis entered the critical week of their negotiations today with the threat of a nation-wide coal strike dead ahead.

Lewis has indicated he will give notice Tuesday or Wednesday that he intends to terminate the present contract at midnight next Sunday, March 31.

Before he gives that notice, the operators hope to submit a list of counter proposals for a new contract. They ran into trouble over the week-end, however, in reaching agreement on how to meet Lewis's nine generalized proposals, including his big one for a health and welfare fund.

The United Mine Workers leader has asked for increased wages for a shorter work week, hinting that he wants to return to a 7-hour day. But he has not been specific in the brief negotiations to date.

The operators were represented by associates who declined to be identified by name as willing to grant the 400,000 bituminous miners a pay increase equal to that given in other basic industries. In steel and autos this averaged 18½ cents an hour.

Some operators were said, however, to fear that this tentative concession on wages would fail to satisfy Lewis because he has completely subordinated the wage and hour demand to this health and welfare fund proposal.

Last Steel Strike Ends at Lorain

By The Associated Press

LORAIN, O., March 25—Preparations were under way today to resume production at the American Stove Co., last of four Lorain plants affected by the nationwide steel strike to reach a settlement with the CIO United Steelworkers union.

Members of the union ratified unanimously yesterday an agreement with the company, providing an increase of 18 cents an hour for the concern's 600 workers.

"DEAD" FLIER COURTS WIFE AGAIN. During a meeting with her first husband, Lt. James H. Cales, at Oakland, Cal., Mrs. Laurie Cales loosens their son's foot which had become entangled in his blanket. When Cales was reported killed in action, his wife wed Lt. E. P. Bernstein. The latter obtained an annulment after it was disclosed that Cales was a prisoner of the Japs. Now that he has returned to the U. S., Cales is wooing his wife again who can't choose between the two men she married.

BOARD IS UPHELD IN BEE DITCH CASE

Knox County Judge Confirms Action by Commissioners.

In a journal entry filed in common pleas court Charles D. Hayden, Knox county common pleas judge, has affirmed an order of the Marion county commissioners for cleaning and widening the Bee Run ditch in Scott and Claridon townships.

County commissioners today set April 15 as the date for letting contracts for the project.

Since December, 1943, the project has been the subject of court action. The petition asking for work on the ditch was filed by Harold J. Brooks, along whose property the ditch runs. Later Allen Longacre and other property owners in the area appealed the commissioners' order to grant the ditch to common pleas court.

In affirming the commissioners' order, Judge Hayden maintains that the improvement is necessary, that it will be conducive to public welfare, that the costs will be less than the benefits and that the assessments were levied by the commissioners according to the benefits.

James E. Reed and John H. Clark were the county's attorneys in the court action and Walter D. Moore and Charlton Myers attorneys for Longacre and others.

DAD OF 4 HELD IN AREA'S CRIME WAVE

Admits 6 Kenton Burglaries, Seneca Sheriff Says.

Special to The Star

KENTON, March 25—Russell Dean Mallow, 26, of North Baltimore, who is being held under $5,000 bond in the Seneca county jail on a charge of burglary, admitted yesterday to Sheriff Steinmetz of Seneca county, after questioning by Kenton Police Chief Clarence Sheldon, that he had committed six burglaries in Kenton on the night of March 14.

The six burglaries of Kenton stores netted Mallow approximately $327, which he said he had since spent. It is unlikely that he will be brought to Kenton to answer charges, Chief Sheldon said. He is being held for burglaries in Fostoria and also admitted entering business places in Bellefontaine, North Baltimore, Findlay and Bowling Green, the chief said.

Mallow, father of four, said he started the burglaries shortly after Christmas and had been sick and unable to work.

DISTILLERY STOCKS STAGGER ON STREET

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 25 — Strength of selected rails and industrials in today's stock market was offset to some extent by a break in the lately buoyant distillers.

Early buying again was credited mainly to the brighter international situation and rising hopes that OPA controls would be further relaxed or eliminated.

The liquor group, including Hiram Walker, American Distilling, Distillers Corp., Schenley and National Distilling, fell 1 to around 7 points before meeting support.

In front were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors and Hudson Motors.

Richwood Man To Open Airport Soon

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, March 23—Leo Grindell of Richwood, Union county state highway maintenance superintendent, announced today he is preparing to open an airport on the Grindell farm, three and a half miles west of Richwood, just north of State Route 47 for the purpose of airplane sales, service and student instruction.

Mr. Grindell went to Middletown this week and flew back with a new Aeronca trainer plane which will be kept at Columbus for a few days pending completion of a taxi strip at the Grindell airport. The port has received designation as a landing area, Mr. Grindell said.

Old Age Pension Society Meets at Eagles Hall

A meeting of the Old Age Pension society of Marion County which was held Friday afternoon in the Eagles hall, opened with the singing of "America." Prayer by Mrs. Emma Payne was followed by the Lord's prayer and the salute to the flag by the group.

Rev. Frank Berry of Marion gave the sermon for the meeting. The state president of the society, J. M. Berry of Mansfield, was present and gave a talk on the work of the organization. A reading was given by Arthur Hershner followed by a song by Mrs. Emma Payne. The meeting was closed with the benediction.

UPPER COOP. MEETS

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

MARY'S cheeks flushed hotly at my revelation, and I knew that her pride had been flicked on the raw.

"I'm sure I'm deeply grateful to Her Majesty for her thoughtfulness," she said, "but just why should she imagine that Olina's announcement of her engagement to Georges at the luncheon would faze me?"

She drew her breath hard, and went on, evidently too filled with resentment to pause or to choose her words.

"Does she perhaps imagine that I'm going to swoon or weep, and set Noel off so that he'll go berserk and start down for the hideaway, brandishing two pistols and carrying a dirk between his teeth?" she demanded.

I made her no answer, preferring to let the motor of her anger run down of itself, and she turned on me with a query.

"Doesn't Olga know I already am aware that Georges has asked Olina to marry him?" she asked hotly, her fact still flushed, although I noted with satisfaction that the crimson wave was receding. "You heard me advise him to go all out for Olina, and when you told me of the messages Georges sent me back—that he was going to follow my advice"—she hesitated, with a wary glance at me.

A Bit of Malice

"And also telling you that his last vow to you was still in force," I interpolated, with a smile tinged I am afraid, with a bit of malice.

"Don't rub it in!" she said brusquely. "Georges is Georges, and that's that!"

Having thus disposed of the fugitive royal philanderer, she went on with her vehement declaration.

"I told you then," she said, "and afterward, when Georges had confided to you his intention to ask Olina to marry him, that you had my full permission to tell Olga everything that was necessary to her peace of mind."

She stopped short then, and I saw that her tempestuous anger had nearly run its course. So my answer was prompt.

"I told Olga the important thing; that you knew of the betrothal," I said. "But I did not embellish the bare facts with any frills, such as the messages Georges sent to you."

Flush of Embarrassment

The flush on Mary's face now was one of embarrassment instead of anger.

"No-o, that wouldn't have been so hot," she agreed. "But—but—I don't see what all the shootin's for if Olga knows I've already been told about the betrothal. She ought to know me well enough to know I'd play up properly. Or"—she stopped and her beautiful eyebrows narrowed into a frown—"has she any lurking idea that I have a hidden torch for Georges flickering in some hidden corner of what passes for my heart?"

I laughed, as much in sheer relief as at her nonsense, for I saw that her explosive wrath had evaporated.

"No," I said with decision. "She knows you care nothing for Georges. But she is deeply troubled just the same. I cannot fathom all of the reasons for her anxiety, but I think she believes that Olina, because of resentment at—at—"

Cool Finish

"At the way Georges and I have been acting the clown—and the fool," Mary finished coolly. "Better come right out in meetain' and say it, for it's true, and I for one, can't blame Olina for anything she's going to say or do. I suppose the gal is prepared to do a bit of flaunting, with the idea of making me feel like a piece of stepped-on pumpkin pie. Was that my darling step-mamma-in-law's general idea?"

I laughed again, this time wholly at her nonsense.

"I don't think Olga thinks Olina is especially vindictive toward you," I said slowly. "But she does not wish you to be surprised when Olina exhibits on the third finger of her left hand the heirloom betrothal ring which the kings of Trees always give to their brides."

SUBSIDY PAYMENTS TO START APRIL 1

February and March Bills Due Next Month.

Milk and butterfat subsidy payments for January, February and March will start April 1, according to Frank G. Montgomery, Marion county AAA chairman.

The payment rate for the period will be 60 cents a hundredweight for milk and 17 cents a pound for butterfat. Farmers have 60 days to present their milk and cream sales slips to the AAA office and receive their subsidy payments.

During the last quarter of 1945 Marion county milk producers received $46,687.69 in milk and butterfat subsidies paid through the AAA office.

April payment rates will also be 60 cents a hundredweight for milk and 17 cents a pound for butterfat, Mr. Montgomery said, but lower payments will be made during May and June. For May and June payments will be 25 cents a hundredweight for milk and 10 cents a pound for butterfat.

The lower payments during May and June are made in accordance with the accepted practice of decreased producer payments during the flush season of milk production, the county chairman explained.

Mrs. C. B. Blackford Dies at Galion Home

Special to The Star

GALION, March 25 — Mrs. Myrtle M. Blackford of 210 Pershing avenue, died at her home Saturday at 6:30 p. m. following an illness of four months.

She was born in Richland county, Nov. 17, 1894, to Andrew and Dore E. Hayes Shook. Her marriage, Nov. 24, 1915, was to C. B. Blackford who survives.

Besides her husband she leaves the following children: Mrs. Harland Hoffman of Leesville; Mrs. Charles Finney of Blooming Grove; William C. Blackford of Galion; Mrs. Joseph Mundey of Shelby; Harold J., and Robert L., both at home.

Hirohito Knocks 'Em Cold on Public Tour

By The Associated Press

TOKYO, March 25 — Crowds shouting "Banzai" greeted Emperor Hirohito today on his third "meet the people" tour within a month.

He visited a hospital, a silk mill, an industrial plant and a prefectural government office.

The tour, which took Hirohito about 40 miles from Tokyo, preceded smoothly except when a minor official bowed too close to the emperor's limousine and was smacked in the head by an opening door.

Hirohito's chauffeur and other court attendants quickly rendered first aid.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDESEN, M.D.

Salicylates

It has often been said that one man's meat is another man's poison and the same thing is true of medical drugs.

Some people, for instance, are over-sensitive even to such a commonly used drug as aspirin, or preparations like aspirin, known as salicylates. Taking of these drugs even in moderate doses by such sensitive individuals may result in a condition known as salicylism, which is, in reality, a kind of poisoning.

Some persons, too, may develop the same disorder from the habitual taking of such preparations to relieve any and every ache or pain, often in large doses. This is bad business for two reasons: First, because these people may be suffering from an ailment which requires real treatment and second because salicylism is no joke.

The most common symptom of salicylism is ringing in the ears. Other symptoms which occur often are dizziness, sickness to the stomach, and vomiting. Sometimes, there are fever, rapid breathing and mental disturbances.

The sickness to the stomach and vomiting is not due to the effect of the salicylate on the lining membrane of the stomach but, according to Drs. Charles M. Caravati and Clarence B. Whims of the M.C.A.U.S., come from the action of the drugs on the nervous system. This is proven by the fact that these symptoms occur whether salicylates are given by injection into a vein or taken by mouth.

Salicylates are often given in large doses in the treatment of rheumatic fever, a condition which causes pain and swelling of the joints, fever and, sometimes damage to the heart. When such treatment is carried out, the patient must be carefully watched to make sure that salicylism does not develop. If it does, prompt treatment should be carried out.

If the salicylism is severe, mental excitement, confusion and delirium may develop. The patient is restless and speaks incoherently and occasionally is maniacal. These first symptoms of stimulation of the nervous system are followed by depression and unconsciousness.

According to Drs. Caravati and Whims, the treatment for salicylism consists in discontinuing the use of the salicylates, giving large doses of some alkaline substance such as baking soda and giving plenty of fluids, both by injection and by mouth using methods to reduce fever, giving plenty of food and such drugs as caffeine or ephedrine if there is severe depression of the nervous system.

Salicylates are very useful drugs, when porperly used. Nonetheless, they may prove dangerous when taken indiscriminately and in over-large quantities. Hence they should be taken only when prescribed by a physician, a man who understands both their uses and their dangers.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

N. R.: I am a woman of thirty-five years of age. My legs turn a dark red color on the front and sides. At times, there is itching. What causes this?

Answer: The condition you describe may be due to some trouble with your circulation, vitamin deficiency or to some type of skin disease. It would appear advisable to consult a skin specialist so that the exact cause may be determined.

Tailors Nominate 10 Best Dressed Men

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 25 — The Custom Tailors Guild of America today presented its nominations for the nation's 10 best dressed men — and, incidentally, listed what a well dressed man's wardrobe really should include.

The sartorial top-notchers were: Edward R. Stettinius Jr., chief U. S. delegate to UNO; actor Ray Milland; orchestra leader Guy Lombardo; Morton Bernstein, vice president of the National Silver Co.; crooner Perry Como; Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt; baseball star Hank Greenberg; John Brownlee, Metropolitan Opera baritone; actor Alfred Lunt, and publisher Henry R. Luce.

Wage Bill Compromise Hits Snag in Senate

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 25—Efforts of senate leaders to work out a compromise with opponents of the administration's 65-cent minimum wage bill were reported today to have failed.

Senator Pepper (D-Fla), one of the measure's sponsors, told reporters that no agreements have been made with any other factions.

Across the capitol, meanwhile, proponents were taking steps to push through the legislation as drawn.

In a similar fire Saturday at 4:11 p. m. a shed owned by Orville Landon of 200 East Fairground street caught fire from a neighbor's bonfire and burned with a resulting $50 loss. Firemen from Central and the East Mark street station responded.

A grass fire in a vacant lot at the northeast corner of Adams and Grant at 1:21 p. m. Saturday caused no damage. Firemen from the East Mark street station were called.

G.O.P. SAYS WALLACE CLOUDING UP ISSUES

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 25—Republicans lashed out today at Secretary of Commerce Wallace for what one of them described as "an effort to tangle American foreign policy in partisan politics."

Wallace's declaration that a G.O.P. congressional victory next fall "would have a gravely disturbing effect on the whole international situation" was regarded by minority party lawmakers as setting the pattern of probable Democratic attack in the approaching election campaign.

Senator Ball (R-Minn) struck back at the cabinet member's remark—prefacing the annual Jackson day dinner speech by President Truman here Saturday night—that if the Republicans win in November "the traditional isolationist policies would inevitably lead to world disaster."

"Wallace not only is raising a false issue but he is running a very grave danger of tangling American foreign policy in partisan politics—and in my opinion that would be tragic," Ball told a reporter.

But Senator Pepper (D-Fla) said he believed Wallace was "on sound grounds in his statements on what would be the meaning of the election of a Republican congress."

Some of those to whom Wallace addressed his words were not present at the $100-a-plate dinner to hear his criticism at first hand. Rep. Boykin (D-Ala) disclosed yesterday that 12 fellow southerners—both senators and representatives—refused to attend the function.

Declining to name them, Boykin told newsmen the holdouts took the position that Wallace "should not be speaking to Democrats."

Mr. Ferguson served under five postmasters, Sam Stouffer, Charles Schultz, Mrs. Mattie Richards, Mrs. Fairy Rowe and the present postmaster, Guy Miller. He began work as a mail carrier on Nov. 1, 1906, three days after his twenty-first birthday anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson have five children, Mrs. Harold Cook of St. Marys, Mrs. Harvey Rutter, Mrs. Darreld Borland and Allen Ferguson of Morral and Robert Ferguson of Marion.

Among his prize collections is a congratulatory letter from Postmaster General Robert Hannigan and one from Guy Miller, postmaster at Morral.

Charles Walters, who has substituted for Mr. Ferguson for the last 34 years, has taken over the delivery until a regular carrier is appointed. "Nothing definite," is his answer to a question of what he expects to do, but plans include spending winters in Florida and traveling, fishing and loafing in the summer.

Fred Eise Fatally Hurt in Traffic Accident

Fred Eise, 59, of Akron, brother of Mrs. William H. Hanley of the Richland road, died Thursday morning in Lodi hospital of injuries suffered in a truck accident near Lodi earlier that day. He was a son of John and Laura Eise, now dead, who were former residents of Galion.

Surviving with the sister, Mrs. Hanley, is one brother, Carl Eise of Mansfield, and another sister, Mrs. Victor Serwin of Fremont. He was a member of the V.F.W., the Christian church of Galion, and was in the Rainbow Division in World War I.

Funeral services were to be conducted today at 1 o'clock in Akron.

Warns Against Shooting Gun from Automobile

A warning to boys in the Green Camp area that it is unlawful to shoot from an automobile was issued today by Marion County Game Protector O. H. Neimeyer.

Mr. Neimeyer said boys had been firing .22 caliber rifles from automobiles and cats and dogs in the area had been killed. The game protector pointed out it is unlawful to even carry a loaded rifle in an automobile.

WILY FOX AVOIDS HUNTERS AT MORRAL

No Animals Found in Four Drives by 70 Farmers.

No foxes were killed, or even seen, at the Morral hunt Saturday, according to O. H. Neimeyer, Marion county game protector.

Nearly 70 farmers and sportsmen participated in four separate drives which started from Morral school at 11:30 a. m. but no foxes were seen during the entire drive. Mr. Neimeyer said he believes the fox may be scarce in Morral area. The drive was sponsored by the Morral chapter of the Future Farmers of America. Committee in charge included James Conley, Robert Hinamon, Ronald White and Fred Baer.

A large drive is being planned for Saturday in the region of the Campbell school where Mr. Neimeyer reports many foxes have been seen. During a recent drive there seven foxes, including a black one, got away. A coyote also has been reported in the area, and is believed to be responsible for damage to poultry and small livestock.

Saturday's hunt will start at 10:30 a. m. from the Campbell school and at least five separate drives are planned.

One of the main topics to be discussed at a meeting of the Marion County Wildlife conservation committee to be held the second week in April will be the fox law. The present law, effective to March 31, 1947, makes it lawful to kill foxes in Ohio any season. Certain groups, however, according to Mr. Neimeyer, are seeking to put a closed season on the animal. The game protector has urged members of granges, farm organizations, sportsmen's clubs and natue clubs to be present. Exact date of the meeting has not been set.

MRS. THEO LAUFFER RITES TO BE HELD WEDNESDAY

Body of Former Marion Resident To Be Brought Here.

Funeral services for Mrs. Theo Davis Lauffer, 31, formerly of Marion, will be conducted Wednesday at 9:30 a. m. in St. Mary Catholic church here by Rev. Father William J. Spickerman, pastor. Burial will be in St. Mary cemetery. Friends may call at the M. H. Gunder and Sons funeral home on West Center street today and Tuesday. Mrs. Lauffer, wife of Carl Lauffer of Millville, N. J., died in Millville hospital Friday night after an illness of a month.

Born April 12, 1914, she was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Davis. Her father preceded her in death. In 1939 she was married to Mr. Lauffer, a resident of Columbus, O., and during the last seven years, she resided in Lebanon, Pa., then in Millville. She was a graduate of St. Mary High school here in 1932. At Millville, she was a member of Catholic Ladies of Columbia.

Surviving with her husband and five children are her mother, Mrs. Marie Davis of 280½ North State street, two sisters and a brother, Mrs. Robert Garster of South Main street, Miss Ruth Davis and Charles F. Davis, both of the North State street address. Children are Donald Eugene, Nancy Kay, John Walter, Mary Jane and Ruth Diane.

New Head for China Secret Police Listed

By The Associated Press

CHUNGKING, March 25—Although the widely-reported plane-crash death of Gen. Tai Li, head of China's secret police, has not been confirmed officially, the Kuomintang newspaper World Daily News said today that the government has selected Lt. Gen. Cheng Chiehmin as his successor.

General Cheng, government commissioner at the Peiping executive headquarters and a member of the commission which arranged the truce with Chinese Communists, formerly was director of the intelligence department board of military operations of the national military council.

Tai Li was called by his enemies "The Himmler of China." He had been one of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's most loyal supporters since the early days of the revolution. His plane crashed near Nanking March 17.

The True Atmosphere Of a Refined Home....

Most of our patrons prefer that services should be held in our Funeral Home. They find here all the conveniences one could expect but, more important, they like the simple home atmosphere. The Hughes Funeral Home was planned to meet just such desires. Some alterations were made to provide service facilities and more room, but we always have maintained the surroundings to be found in any comfortable home.

Real air conditioning and the Everett organ are added features that both patrons and their friends appreciate.

Our Funeral Home is available to all patrons at no added cost. Nor will you find that our service is more expensive because of these desirable features.

REGISTER NOW AT THE BOARD OF ELECTIONS

If You Want To Vote on May 7th

An important election is coming up! It's to decide whether or not Marion is to have more and better schools, new large gymnasiums and public auditoriums. It's to decide whether Marion shall go forward or backward.

Your children will benefit most from the result of this. You ought to have your say whether its "yes" or "no." In order to vote you must register before APRIL 8th

Don't Neglect This Important Duty As a Citizen —REGISTER TODAY

With the deadline for registering set for April 8, the election board office on East Center Street will remain open continuously from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. (including noon hour) starting today, Monday, March 25. On April 5, 6 and 8 the office will stay open until 9 P. M.

All you need to do is to go to the Board of Elections office and say you want to register. They'll be glad to do the rest. There's no charge.

MAKE YOURSELF A COMMITTEE OF ONE!

Button hole the guy with a "Duck" in his button hole. Ask him if he's registered. He'll appreciate the reminder!

HERE'S WHO NEEDS TO REGISTER

1. Persons who have never voted in Marion or Marion School District before.
2. Persons who have reached the age of 21 years since they entered the Service.
3. Persons who have not voted within the past 2 years.
4. Women who have recently changed their name by marriage.
5. Persons who have moved from one voting precinct to another.

If you have any doubt call the board of election, Phone 2450. 134½ E. Center St., Marion, Ohio.

Many Marion citizens who have not been in the Service will need to register, too. The above requirements apply to them as well.

PALMS on the altar of Epworth Methodist church provided a background for the single large bouquet of white gladioli and lighted tapers held in two seven-branch candelabra to form the setting for the wedding of Miss Miriam Jean Linder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Linder of 159 Merchant avenue, and Robert D. Crowe of Mansfield, Saturday evening. Completing the decorations were triple tapers in the windows at either side of the church. The couple repeated the double ring service read at 8:30 o'clock by the pastor, Dr. S. M. Ingmire, in an open church ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was preceded down the aisle by her matron of honor, Mrs. M. C. Probst of Lansing, Mich., Miss Jeanne Rodelius of Dayton, bridesmaid, and Donna Deyarmon of Mansfield, niece of the bridegroom, flower girl.

MRS. ROBERT D. CROWE

The bride's gown of white bridal satin was fashioned with a fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline, long, button-trimmed sleeves extending in points over the hands, and the skirt, made with a long paneled torso effect, ending in a long train. A pleated net tiara held her fingertip veil and she carried a single purple orchid on a Testament which had been carried by her father through World War I and also by the bridegroom during his service in World War II.

The attendants' gowns were in an orchid shade and were fashioned on lines similar to the bride's with cap sleeves. Their lace mitts matched their fitted caps and they carried fanshaped bouquets of violets and shell pink carnations with orchid streamers. The little glower girl wore an orchid frock with an off the shoulder ruffle, and long, flounced skirt. Velvet bows in a deeper shade of orchid dotted the shoulder ruffle and flounce of the skirt. She wore lace mitts and a fitted cap and her flowers were a miniature of the attendants' bouquets.

Serving as best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Crowe of Columbus, was his brother-in-law, J. K. Deyarmon of Mansfield, and ushers were R. J. Pech of Cleveland and Joseph Dillehay of Mt. Vernon.

Preceding the ceremony there was a half-hour program of nuptial music with Mrs. Fred Sinning at the organ, and Miss Ruth Christman sang. The organ numbers included "Because," d'Hardelot, "Indian Love Call," Friml, "Tell Me Why," "Till the End of Time," Chopin, "Ave Maria," Gounod, "Poeme," "To a Wild Rose," MacDowell, "All For You," Brown, and "Liebestraum," Liszt, and the traditional wedding marches, and Miss Christman sang "Oh, Promise Me," DeKoven and "I Love You Truly," Bond. During the ceremony Mrs. Sinning played "O Perfect Love."

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Linder were hosts to 100 guests at a reception at Detrick's inn. Mrs. Linder was costumed in a black dress with white accessories, and the bridegroom's mother wore an aqua costume with black accessories. Both wore gardenia corsages.

The bride's table was decorated with orchid and white sweet peas and lighted floating candles. Assisting were Miss Ruth Ann Abel and Mrs. J. K. Deyarmon of Mansfield.

Later when the couple left on a wedding trip to Louisville, Ky. and through the south, the bride was wearing a suit in a gold shade, with which she combined black accessories with gold nailhead trim. Completing her costume was her wedding orchid and a pin, a gift from the bridegroom. They will be at home after April 1 at 282 West Fourth street, Mansfield.

The bride was graduated from Harding High school in 1941 and attended Office Training School in Columbus. She was employed at Air Technical Service Command at Wright Field, Dayton. A member of Delta Psi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi in Dayton, she was advisor of Unit One of Nu Phi in that city. The bridegroom was graduated from Centerburg High school in 1938 and was recently discharged as a sergeant in the medical battalion of the 37th division after five years of service, three and one-half years of which was overseas. He is employed at the Mansfield Sewage Disposal plant.

The rehearsal dinner was held Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Linder. The bride presented her attendants with rhinestone earrings and the flower girl with pearls. Her gift to her fiance was a billfold. Mr. Crowe presented his best man and the ushers with ties.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Mary DeMuth and daughter Frances Margaret, and Mrs. Dell Gallager and son Johnnie of Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kightlinger of Caledonia; Mrs. David Staub and Mr. J. M. Linder of Edison; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Linder of Cardington; Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Oehmler and son Donald of Toledo; Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Reed of Bucyrus; Lt. C. M. Stoddart of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Deyarmon, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Deyarmon, Mrs. Jo Linton, Mrs. Rex Morris, Miss Harriet Will of Mansfield; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jacobs and daughters of Centerburg.

Mrs. Fred Kempton, a recent bride, was honored with a miscellaneous shower when Mrs. A. M. Young and Miss Mary Haberman entertained Friday night at Ringer's inn. Centering the table was a miniature bridal party standing before a silver arch, and banked with miniature vases which contained sweet peas and fern. Beneath the centerpiece was a large mirror. White candles in crystal holders lighted the table. Place cards were flower decorated mirrors and dolls dressed like the bride and the bridal party were favors.

Contract and auction bridge were played with awards in contract going to Mrs. J. Malcolm Strelitz and Mrs. Earl McWherter. Auction prizes were awarded to Miss Enid Little and Miss Marguerite Walton.

Present with the honored guest who was Miss Gladys Clark before her marriage, were Mrs. Strelitz, Mrs. Harry L. Dowler, Mrs. L. E. Oberlander, Mrs. J. L. Halberstein, Mrs. McWherter, Mrs. George Rinker, Mrs. Phillip Boyd, Mrs. Judson Kerr, and Misses Elsie Keller, Marguerite Walton, Gertrude Haberman, Virginia Wilson and Enid Little.

Mrs. John H. Morgan was hostess to the Fortnightly Study club at the Federation home Thursday evening. Roll call was answered by each member with a description of her wedding dress. A donation of $5 was made to the Marion clinic, and Mrs. M. F. Bishop gave a report of the plan for Fine Arts day to be held May 7. Mrs. Ray Klehm gave a report of the Civic Planning group and Mrs. Robert McCormick presided for a program. A paper prepared by Mrs. L. L. Foos and read by Mrs. Klehm was "History Battering the Door." "Orchid Hunting in Mexico" was presented by Mrs. Clay Wilson. Refreshments were served at small card tables placed throughout the room. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Foos as hostess at Detrick's inn.

"Children's Diseases" was the program topic for a meeting of the Child Culture League Thursday evening at Detrick's inn. Roll call was answered with "What I Do To Keep Well." Mrs. Ernest Williams presented papers on "Allergic Diseases in Childhood" and "Tetanus, while Mrs. Ira Salter's paper was on "Children's Contagious Diseases." Contest awards went to Mrs. Ralph Williams, Mrs. A. H. Dowler and Mrs. Eugene Rice.

Mrs. Ronald Pask was hostess to members of the Sunset Euchre club Wednesday evening at her home on Bellevue avenue. High honors in cards went to Mrs. Sam Pruzzo, second to Mrs. J. H. Williams, floating to Mrs. George Steele and the consolation to Mrs. Harold Steele. The guest prize was won by Mrs. Robert Severns. Guests were Mrs. Harry Capehart, Mrs. Severns and Mrs. George Steele. The next meeting will be in two weeks with Mrs. Arthur Glassmeyer on Darius street.

The Sunny Bunch Euchre club met at the home of Mrs. Garnet Russell of 504 Wilson avenue Thursday. After a business meeting cards were played. Honors went to Mrs. Jane White, first; Mrs. Verlea Young, second; Mrs. C. A. England, lone hands; and Mrs. Gertrude Lumpkins, mystery. Mrs. Jane White was guest. Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Esther Sharp of 528 Henry street April 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Perl W. Gray of 619 North Main street, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Margaret Ann, to Robert E. Kemmerly, son of Mrs. C. C. Cronley of Atlanta, Ga., and Ralph Kemmerly of 190 North Seffner avenue. The ceremony will be performed Friday, March 28, at 7:30 p. m. in the Emanuel Lutheran church by the pastor, Rev. M. E. Hollensen.

Weddings

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Ruth Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Phillips of 125 Latourette street, to Robert E. White, son of Mrs. Mabel White of 894 Bennett street. The ceremony was read Sunday, March 17, at 12 o'clock noon at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. J. A. Smith, pastor of the Richwood Pilgrim Holiness church.

The bride chose for her wedding a blue street length dress with which she combined brown accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of gardenias. Her only attendant was Miss Gertrude Jeffers of Marion. She wore a gold and black suit with which she wore matching accessories and a corsage of red carnations.

Serving as best man for the bridegroom was his brother, Donald White.

Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served to about 30 guests.

Mr. White was discharged from the Army Dec. 6 after 37 months service, with 22 months of that time overseas in the European theater.

Guard Unit To Plan Schedule for Quarter

Plans for next quarter's schedule will be made at a Company M, Ohio State Guard, meeting in the armory Tuesday night.

Among other topics to be discussed will be the company's summer camp program at Camp Perry from Aug. 10 to 18 and organization of a company softball team.

Next non-commissioned officer's school will be April 1 and next regular drill April 2. The company has places for ten additional men, according to Capt. Elmer E. Smith, commanding officer.

"Hard Times" Party Is Held by Class

A "hard-times" party was the feature of the evening when the Cheerful Helpers class of Oakland Evangelical church met Thursday night in the parish house. Mrs. Max Graham and Mrs. Ruth Oller were hostesses. Devotions were conducted by Raymond White. Musical numbers were presented by William Feaver and Mrs. Boyd Watt and a reading was given by Mrs. Opal Martin. Mrs. William Feaver was in charge of the program. The prize for the funniest dressed person went to Mrs. Ray Martin and for the poorest dressed to Mrs. Feaver. Decorations were in keeping with the theme of the party.

Columbus Violinist To Be Guest Soloist at Orchestra Concert

GEORGE E. HARDESTY

George E. Hardesty, violin soloist for the Columbus Philharmonic orchestra and professor of violin and ensemble at Ohio State university, will be guest soloist at the annual spring concert to be presented by the Harding High school orchestra Wednesday, March 27, at the Palace theater. The orchestra is under the direction of Homer Huffman, instrumental music supervisor in the city schools.

Known in many places as a former director of a string orchestra over a Columbus radio station and director of the Melody House program over WCOL in Columbus, Mr. Hardesty was also on concert tour through Illinois, Georgia, and Ohio for some time.

Receiving his bachelor of music degree at Oberlin Conservatory of Music in 1934, he was master of music at the conservatory for a time. He also graduated from two post-graduate violin study courses, one under Howard Kolf at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music and the other under Jaques Gordon at the Eastman School of Music.

Accompanist for the solo selections by Mr. Hardesty will be Gertrude Kuehefuhs. The concert will begin at 8:30 o'clock instead of the regularly scheduled time of 8:15 p. m., Mr. Huffman has announced. This has been done because of church services which are being held during the Lenten season.

The concert is sponsored by the Band and Orchestra Parents association of which Dallas Harruff is presicent. The proceeds obtained from the concert go into a fund which is used to purchase equipment for both the band and orchestra.

Season tickets for both the band and orchestra concerts were sold prior to the band concert which was given Feb. 27. A limited number of tickets will be available for this program at the theater the evening of the concert. A matinee concert will be given for grade school students from 3 to 4 o'clock.

ACTION ON SCHOOL PLAN DUE TONIGHT

CIO Industrial Council To Consider Building Program.

The Marion Industrial Union Council may decide at its regular meeting Tuesday night whether or not it will indorse the Marion school building program.

At a meeting last Monday night the council's executive board discussed the school issue thoroughly but postponed definite action on the measure until a regular council meeting.

Members of the council have been studying the school building plan for several weeks and a committee has gathered information which it is expected to present Tuesday night. Union council members voted to make a further study of the school issue two weeks ago after a schol report was read in a regular meeting.

K. OF C. TO OBSERVE 64TH ANNIVERSARY

Marion Council To Take Part in Nationwide Program.

Members of Marion Council No. 671, Knights of Columbus, are joining thousands of Catholic men throughout the nation this week in the observance of the sixty-fourth anniversary of the founding of the organization.

The local council will observe Founder's week by attending the weekly Tuesday evening Lenten service at St. Mary Catholic church, in a body. At this time, Rev. Father Robert Harwick of the faculty of St. Charles seminary, Columbus, who is giving the sermon each Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, will give special recognition to the organizations founding and work. Rev. Harwick is faithful friar of the Columbus Fourth Degree assembly. Following the service the men will hold their regular meeting in the council clubrooms and at this time delegates will be elected to the state convention to be held in Cincinnati in May.

The Knights of Columbus was founded in 1882 when the late Rev. Father McGivney of St. Mary church, New Haven, Conn., organized Catholic laymen for the purpose of furthering the work of the church. From that humble beginning 64 years ago, the order has grown until now it is the largest organization of Catholic laymen in the world, numbering more than 500,000 men.

The Marion council was organized and received its charter May 2, 1902. Four of the charter members are still active in council work. They are Michael C. O'Brien, Henry P. Drake, Henry Yochum and James Cusick. The council now has a membership of 330.

Mackenzie Probes Europe's Worries About Third War

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP World Traveler

PARIS, March 25—Whenever two or more serious-minded folk get together these days the conversation almost inevitably arrives at a discussion of whether this war-torn Europe is headed for another conflict.

That's a question which unhappily can't be dismissed as absurd, and it's one which your correspondent has studied diligently during a protracted tour. The answer as I see it is this:

Dewitt Mackenzie

The danger of a further upheaval does exist. However, war not only isn't inevitable but the balance is on the side of peace at this writing.

And what has created such a threat as exists? Well, there's no great mystery about that. It's due to differences among the major powers in connection with the realignment of the zones of influence both in Europe and in Asia. Power politics is another designation for it.

Russia Taking Over

The newborn might of Russia is pouring into much of the vacuum created by the disappearance of Germany, Italy and Japan as first class powers, and by the disability of France and Britain to defend their place in the sun.

Until that realignment is finished, peace will be in danger. There remains some highly delicate points to be settled—for example, Moscow's intentions regarding Austria, Turkey, Iran and Manchuria—but if and when they have been ironed out the danger of trouble will have been reduced to a minimum, unless some power displays ambition to exceed the new zones of influence.

The degree of success of the United Nations Organization will be in direct ratio to the degree of agreement among the Big Three—Russia, Britain and America. The United Nations Organization has dangerous waters to negotiate at the outset.

Problem Is Complex

Apart from the maneuvering of the European powers for position there are other problems developing out of the chaos caused by the war. The plague of hunger which is sweeping both Europe and Asia is likely to produce numerous crises among the distressed people. Inflation is creating impossible situations in many countries. Then, of course, there are the political troubles of India, Indonesia and China.

Still, none of the problems, serious as they are, need cause another global conflict—barring one contingency. That contingency would be the attempt of a major power to take advantage of a crisis to extend its own territory or zone of influence. Give us another few months and we shall be able to say whether there is any power which has such unholy ambitions.

Those few months are the crucial period for world peace.

MISS MARY REXROTH CLAIMED BY DEATH

Passes Away After Long Illness; Funeral Thursday.

Miss Mary L. Rexroth, 68, of 784 East Center street, died at 8 a. m. today in City hospital following an illness of two years. She was admitted to the hospital Feb. 26.

Born March 15, 1878 in Indiana, she was a daughter of David Rexroth and Magdalena Burkepile Rexroth, both natives of Crawford county. She was a member of Epworth Methodist church and Circle No. 11 of the W.S.C.S. of that church, the Silver Cross Circle of the King's Daughters, Order of the Eastern Star, the White Shrine and the Woman's Relief Corps. Until four years ago she was assistant matron of the Waddell Ladies Home.

Surviving are two sisters, Miss Elizabeth Rexroth of 784 East Center street, and Mrs. Martha B. Hord of 766 East Center street. One brother preceded her in death.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday at 2:30 p. m. at the Schaffner-Denzer funeral home on East Center street by Dr. S. M. Ingmire, pastor of Epworth Methodist church. Burial will be in Marion cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Traffic Mishaps Kill at Least 7 Ohioans

By The Associated Press

At least seven persons were killed in week-end Ohio traffic accidents, five of them in two separate crashes.

Three Toledo youths, returning from a dance at Fremont, died when their car plunged into a bridge abutment. They were: George F. Finn, 22; Janis Berry, 19, and Dorothy Kabat, 19.

Jarvis Canny, 53, and his wife, Alice, 48, were injured fatally in a Cincinnati mishap. Their car struck a concrete wall.

En route to serve as an escort at a funeral, Patrolman Arden D. Weese, 36, of Akron, was killed in a motorcycle-automobile crash.

Mary Catherine Clayton, 39, met death as she walked toward her home near Harrod in Allen county. She was hit by an automobile.

The Epidemic Is Waning

A PHRASE with wide and significant vogue at the close of 1945 is falling into disuse. The "strike epidemic" which was universally expected then and was the major premise in every prediction about coming conditions in business reached its climax and now is waning.

It was an epidemic in a literal as well as a figurative sense. The fact that strikes occurred and received the publicity they deserved as important news led to a spread of the infectious strike spirit. Psychologically, the situation was favorable for such a spread.

The end of the war had stimulated workers and union strategists to think about ways and means of maintaining as much as possible of war boom wage levels. Price inflation, both actual and imminent, sharpened fears of inability to meet the rising cost of living.

Furthermore, men and women who had worked steadily during the war were not averse to the prospect of having a little time to themselves if a strike was ordered; they went through the motions of strike votes without misgivings about the outcome of a work stoppage.

There still is the possibility of further important work stoppages, but it now is secondary to the possibility that production may swing into its stride and hold that stride for many months to come. The peak of the strike epidemic has been passed. If for no other reason, it has been passed because so many wage earners now are immunized by having used up their savings and exhausted their desire for time away from their jobs.

Uniforms Don't Make the Soldier

ELIMINATING the clothes distinction between officers and enlisted men is only one of a number of things the war department might do to create a better spirit for a civilian army. It is a step in the right direction and will be acclaimed by all but those who need it most.

No one can listen to complaints against the officer caste system by enlisted men without being aware of a very real problem for the armed services. It explains nothing to say that such complaints are inevitable and chronic. They reflect a condition that deserves the highest intelligence the government can command.

World War II was the first major trial of the American theory of a civilian army. World War I was merely a warmup by comparison. Many things were learned. The armed services know more about their problem than they did before. They are showing signs of putting some of their new knowledge to work.

One of the lessons clearly was this: that old world military systems, fashioned chiefly after the Prussian, are not suitable for the United States. Our fighting men cannot be expected to suspend all their convictions in the name of military discipline. In short, they are not Prussians but Americans, and as Americans they need a military system shaped in the American tradition of equality, fair play and mixmum liberty for the individual, regardless of station. The enlisted men's complaints are the sum of many little things, unimportant in themselves but extremely important in the aggregate. The clothes distinction was one of the little things.

Why LaGuardia?

A GOOD many Americans who have been watching the rise and fall of Fiorello LaGuardia on the uncertain tides of New York City politics wonder why he now is being plugged for director general of United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration. The relief and rehabilitation of LaGuardia cannot be compared in importance with the relief and rehabilitation of Europe.

It doesn't even sound like a good place to keep him on ice pending further developments that may bring him back into politics. UNRRA seems to have turned into one of those things that produce more headaches than prestige. Unless the Truman administration wants to put the former mayor of New York on a spot that will keep him squirming, it would be healthier for him to stick to his new radio and newspaper jobs.

There also is the detail of former President Herbert Hoover, whose investigation of food conditions in Europe temporarily has taken the shine off the UNRRA directorship. It was rumored when Mr. Hoover accepted the assignment that he himself would be the next head of UNRRA. From Mr. Hoover to Mr. LaGuardia is a long jump. UNRRA, for all its shortcomings, deserves to be kept out of American politics as far as possible.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Finds "Time" Corrupts Plea for American Art.

WASHINGTON, March 25 — Time magazine, whose great and brilliant owner, Henry Luce, has not been able to clear it of its cells of Communism, although I hear authoritatively he has tried hard and succeeded to a considerable extent, has attempted to corrupt my plea for American art.

In the art section of its issue of Feb. 25 it said I was a "Hearstling," whatever that is, and deceived its vast public as to what my plea was. The "Hearstling" idea is a timeworn tidbit of the Communists which has deceived its public for years. The facts have long been well known in the newspaper world. I had 400 clients in my business before leasing my column to King Features Syndicate and now I have 300. My syndicate has never advised, asked or invited me to write anything, and makes money from me —not me from it. My money comes from the great bulk of above 300 newspapers throughout America, aside from the Hearst newspapers. All Hearst papers do not buy it. My independent position is well established — and known.

The device used for concealment of my idea by deception was similarly time-worn. In condensing quotations of mine, time omitted the quotation which would have proved my point and published quotations which seemed selected to make me ridiculous and the idea obscure.

Proof Omitted

My idea was that much so-called modern art is psychologically Communistic and the basic point I had used to prove it was that it lacks beauty. This basic proof time omitted entirely.

I think I can prove both my idea and the point to any fair-minded intelligent person who possesses even a visual knowledge of art.

Say an artist paints a few lines on canvas. These are curved, straight or irregular, but have no recognizable substance. An average person looking at them cannot say what they are. Of itself, such a picture has no beauty. Its lines are not arranged in a way to appeal to our sense of beauty. It lacks appealing substance or design. The colors are not selected to appeal to our sense of color rhythm either, but may look like an unwashed pallet.

No appeal, visual beauty, rhythm or any other sense is made by this form of art. To understand why they have it hanging around and are selling it for big sums, you must be fool enough to try to imagine what the artist thought he was conceiving, if he had any thoughts. This is the secret of that form of art. You must enter a realm of thought control, or thought enslavement, away from your natural inclinations, in order to "appreciate" it—by which word I mean be duped by it.

Essence of Communism

Is my point not valid that this is of the same essence as Communism, the same method of thought-controlled art transferred to politics? It requires its subjects to enter a realm of imagination to conceive beauties it cannot present visibly. The Russian standard of living was the lowest of the western world after 20 years of Comumnism before the war. It cannot present any visible facts of superior results. It cannot appeal to reason for natural senses. It does not occupy the plane of reason, or seek it. You must enter a realm of thought-control or thought - enslavement beyond the natural senses to imagine a non-existant beauty.

Communism is political cubism, non-objectivity, sur-raalism in its philosophical essence and therefor in truth.

Contrast this with the inspiration of American art rooted in hundreds of years of concepts of naturalists and reason. It is an expression of our world philosophy of the freedom of the individual human being.

Now, my purpose in bringing the matter up for analysis in the first place was to promote an understanding of our own art as measured not only against the incipiently Communist product of the imagination, but against the art of our own realm of history, particularly European art which has been thought to be superior to ours although I do not think it is. I believe exhibits of our art should be promoted on a wider and more understanding scale, and that in every way possible its great quality should be stressed to the American people.

WHATEVER BECAME OF CLEMENT ATLEE?

A breathless Hollywood commentator informs us that, their much publicized feud having been patched up, Bud Abbott and Lou Costello are at one again.

This is great news to an anxious world. Now all it has to worry about is the spat between those almost-as-famous onetime partners, Joe Stalin and Winston Churchill.

Churchill and Stalin met at Yalta, at Teheran, and at Berlin. Now they talk as though they'd like to meet in an alley.

Postwar revelations have thrown new light on a number of things: It may even develop that Rudolf Hess was a better salesman than he was led to believe.

Of course it should be borne in mind that Mr. Churchill's remarks, like those of the firebrand on the radio, do not necessarily reflect the views of his sponsor.

In fact, any day now I expect to pick up my paper and find therein a legal notice:

"W. Churchill having left my bed and board at 64 Downing street; I am no longer responsible for his objurations.—J. Bull."

Author of the Week

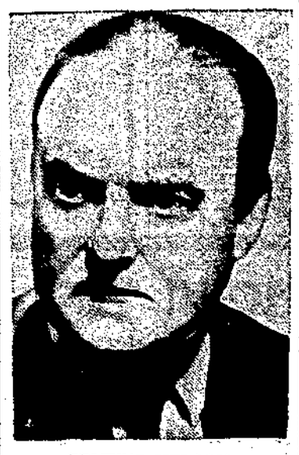
By W. G. Rogers

EDMUND WILSON, author of "Memoirs of Hecate County," or six long and short short stories, is a member of the second of two groups of critics: one, those who just preach, and two, those who practice what they preach. Those who just preach often complain they'd write a book, if only they had the time. Wilson turned his out on top of regular reviews and a trip to Europe. He is literary critic of the New Yorker magazine.



EDMUND WILSON

Hecate, goddess part earthy and part not, presides over the spirit of these half-dozen stories as surely as over the place. In one, time runs mystifyingly backward; in another, a man's hate changes to love, out of which he makes money; in another, guests become host and hostess and have a phantom try at what they hesitated to risk in reality; in another, the wounded soul develops into the injured body.

But it isn't only this aspect which gives them unity. They are all told in the first person by the same person. Characters in one reappear in another, and their relationships remain the same. Finally, they have in common a most distinguished prose style.

Three were published before: "The Man Who Shot Snapping Turtles," "Ellen Terhune" and "Glimpses of Wilbur Flick." Of the others, "The Princess With the Golden Hair," a novelette, is easily the most effective: "The Milhollands and Their Damned Soul" indicts the book publishing business and book clubs: and "Mr. and Mrs. Blackburn at Home," in which you must prepare for several pages of French, winds up with the claim that, though Hecate county is a New York suburban area, it's universal and its inhabitants are middle-class people anywhere . . . which is perfectly true.

"The Princess With the Golden Hair" is 150 pages of practically nothing but sex given an admirable Proustian twist. While on a purely imaginative level in effect, it is, strangely, on an impurely physical level in detail. If you want to become really intimate with a couple of girls, you'd almost do better to meet Anna and Imogen than go philandering on your own account. Though the censors may call foul, this is creative writing of the most praiseworthy caliber.

Whether the "I" of these stories is none of Wilson, New Yorker magazine critic and author of a dozen books, or all of Wilson or part of him, you are free to guess. In one place Imogen says to him: "You're really a brilliant man, aren't you?" Later, Blackburn remarks: "I've just read your very brilliant article." That much, certainly, is true of Wilson: "brilliant" is the word I'd use unhesitatingly.

Smuggling Increases

WASHINGTON—Smuggling has once again become a major federal worry after hitting a wartime low, the U. S. Treasury department reported recently. Contraband from returning troop ships is piling up in government ware houses, said treasury officials and civilian smuggling is on the increase.

Seizures reported at 10,215 in 1944 had jumped to 17,009 in 1944 and the enforcement agencies said they expected even heavier work ahead of them. They are currently concentrating on traffic between the United States and Latin America, the West Indies and Canada.

The diamond is still a favorite among smugglers, said the officials, but in wartimes their tastes ranged from beef to nylons and auto tires. Improved inspection increased their seizures for the year.

More Power To Farmers

By Jack Stinnett

WASHINGTON — On May 20 the Rural Electrification Administration will celebrate its tenth birthday.

It actually was established in 1935 by executive order, but that was with only $75,000 preliminary study funds. It wasn't until May 20, 1936, that it was activated by congressional action.

Five years of its life has been war years, when priorities on materials and manpower brought the fruits of its labors virtually to a standstill. (Contribution of REA-financed systems to the war effort was considerable.)

Ten years ago, less than 11 per cent of all farms in the country were electrified. Today, mostly through self-liquidating REA loans, nearly 45 per cent of the country's farms are electrified (in spite of the wartime slowdown).

To date, Congress has appropriated $725,000,000 for REA loans and another $100,000,000 is coming up for the balance of this fiscal year. In ten years, if the present goal is reached, virtually the whole rural United States will be electrified. The cost will have been something like $1,825,000,000 —but not cost to the taxpayers.

In the ten years of its life to date, delinquencies on repayments of the loans have been well under one per cent.

As for its effect on farming, Sen. Robert M. LaFollette Jr. said recently: "I venture the assertion that electricity will ultimately revolutionize agriculture more than all farm inventions of the last century combined.

Experts at the Department of Agriculture (in which REA is located) say there are 50 separate uses of electricity in the home and more than 300 on the farm itself.

As Sen. LaFollette and a dozen others have pointed out, each new extension of rural electrification opens up vast new markets for electrical appliances.

REA has estimated that the planned expansion for the next three years will create a market for 1,000,000 radio, 1,000,000 electric irons, 700,000 washing machines, a half million refrigerators, a quarter million vacuum cleaners, 400,000 toasters, 200,000 hot plates and 100,000 coffee makers.

Ten years ago, it was Sen. George Norris, the late great Nebraska liberal, who led the fight to put REA on its feet. The fight isn't over, but there definitely is a majority of helping hands in Congress now to carry on the Norris heritage.

Eire's Army Shrinks

By The Associated Press

DUBLIN — Eire's army is smaller today than at any time in the quarter of a century of its existence. Two years ago it was at the peak of its strength, a striking force of almost 100,000 highly trained men backed by some 150,000 members of the Local Defense Force.

Demobilization, which began a few months ago, has been unexpectedly heavy. Reenlistments have been few. Gratuities for discharged men amount to as much as £500 which is big money to an Irish soldier.

Too large a proportion of the discharged men are crossing the border to Northern Ireland to join the British army which, particularly in the RAF, offers many inducements to adventurous young men.

The peace-time strength of the Eire regular army will be 12,500 men.

Naval Officer—Tsch! Tsch!

Native—We distrust nobody.

Naval Officer—In other words you are in a wholly savage state. If you were only civilized you could get the picture. It's like this... we have got to find out the terrible destruction of which the atomic bomb is capable. Civilization demands it.

Native—Civilization difficult to follow. Me born on this atoll, me live here in happiness with family. Me have annoyed nobody. Me hate no one. Me want only the things that belong to me. Does this not admit me within the ranks of the truly civilized, no, yes?

Naval Officer—You have far to go to reach the high point of civilization which would make this all clear. Now pack up quickly, please, and scram to hell outa here!

* * *

Native—Is it not making us a displaced population please?

Naval Officer—Yes.

Native—But didn't displacing populations help bring on great war, no?

Naval Officer—The displaced persons idea helped bring on the war. The war brought on the atomic bomb. Now the atomic bomb makes it necessary to displace populations. It's very simple.

Native—But why pick on me?

Naval Officer—An atoll is an atoll.

* * *

Native—Being uncivilized me lack a true understanding of all this, no, yes, maybe?

Naval Officer—Yes, you are too well behaved and kindly to understand what we are doing. After we have completed these atomic tests and devastated everything around your former homes we will make a check, file a report and return to you some day all the advantages of civilization.

Native (leading his countrymen across the atolls, five at a leap) Awwh-h-h-h!

Away back when it wasn't necessary to begin each day by checking to see how far away the nearest war was? And if it had gained over night?

Comment by a lady observing a newspaper picture of another new automobile model: "My, that's much prettier than the other car I can't get!"

Bernard Baruch has named Herbert Bayard Swope as an aid on his Atomic Energy Commission. At last it would be our guess that atomic energy has met its MASTER!

Physical Breakdown

By Truman Twill

Those pathetic cases of apparently healthy men breaking down for no apparent reason can be traced to spring.

Take Joe Koomkwat, as fine a specimen of manhood as ever survived the public school system. Joe never has been sick more than a year in his life but look at him now—twisted up and dragging one leg. Joe has been cleaning ceilings with a wad of goomaw, under the critical eye of his missus. Spring has come.

Take young Bill Slupp, lately a hero in the armed forces. A year ago Bill was eating his heart out on an atoll in the South Pacific, wishing he could be back in civilization. Mrs. Slupp has come down with spring fever and has our hero painting woodwork. "I guess I didn't know when I was well off," said Mr. Slupp tersely in a press interview today. "They don't use paint in the South Pacific. The Japs never did anything like this to me. Look, I've lost the use of my right arm."

There is Frank Fetchit, 80 if he's a day. Worked hard all his life and saved his money. Married a woman 20 years younger 20 years ago and she still doesn't know when to let well enough alone. Old Frank has been scraping, sanding and varnishing bedroom floors. For the first time in his life he's feeling his age, which now feels like 103.

Shed a tear for Lester Loop. Used to boast that his wife didn't have to do a lick of hard work. Always had household help, but inflation put an end to that. Lester's the help now. He's being broken in on washing woodwork. "Women want $5 a day and bus fare for this kind of work," muttered Frank, nursing his lame back, "and it's a crime. The job's worth $50 and car fare."

They've taken Clayton P. Klunk to a rest home. In the prime of life, Mrs. Klunk decided to remove wallpaper. Clayt rented one of those steamer contraptions. "We'll do this thing right" were his last words. When the resuscitation squad located him he was breathing his last in a cocoon of wet wallpaper under a cloud of live steam. The doctors think he will be good as new as soon as Mrs. Klunk finishes cleaning house.

William R. Suquer, the well-known stock and bond broker, can't get his neck straightened out. He keeps looking to the left. "It's a short story," he told the insurance claim agent. "We live in a house with one of those spindle staircases. Mrs. S. decided to paint the spindles. She got the paint and the brush. 'Get going Willie my boy,' she said. 'Spring is here.' Where I made my mistake was to work on my left side. I should have faced the other way. There are more things to see on the right. I'll be seeing you again by Memorial day."

During the Christian era, iron was used as a medium of exchange in many isolated regions of Africa.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

GEORGE: "Yes, I certainly would like to hear why you call that an old fashioned idea, Judge."

OLD JUDGE: "Glad to tell you, George. Until recently, a person known as an alcoholic was generally treated as a social outcast. Little if anything was done to understand him or help him. But, during the past few years, medical research and study has developed that alcoholics are really sick people... that there is usually a deep-rooted physical, social or emotional reason behind their behavior. That's why today so much is being done to help them by finding out and correcting the condition that leads them to excess."

GEORGE: "How many folks are there like that, Judge?"

OLD JUDGE: "Well, according to scientific research, 95% of the people who drink, drink sensibly. 5% do so unwisely, at times. Included in that 5% is the small percentage of the sick people I'm talking about."

GEORGE: "That certainly gives me a clearer picture. It's the most sensible approach I've ever heard on the subject."

Surviving are her mother and father who reside in Westfield, O., and three brothers and one sister. Funeral services are to be conducted in Westfield, O.

EX-HERO MIHAILOVIC NABBED AS TRAITOR

By The Associated Press

BELGRADE, March 25—Gen. Draja Mihailovic, once hailed as a guerrilla hero in the fight against the Nazis, was officially reported under arrest as a traitor and war criminal today following his capture by Yugoslav authorities.

Alexander Rankovic, minister of the interior, announced to a cheering parliament yesterday that the war-time leader of the Chetniks, who had been hunted for nearly two years in the Yugoslav hills by Marshal Tito's forces, had been seized March 13.

Rankovic did not say where the capture occurred, but it was rumored that Mihailovic, King Peter's former war minister, was trapped near Vishegrad, near the Serbian-Bosnian border.

An official radio broadcast said the general was captured in a mountain cave guarded by only 11 men of his forces, which once were estimated total as many as 200,000.

Dr. Ivan Subasic, former foreign minister, said last May that Mihailovic "will be shot" when captured. He added that the Chetnik leader would be given a "fair trial, but we have enough legal evidence to convict him."

The American oil tanker fleet now consists of 763 vessels.

36-Hour Dice Session Costs Man $196,000

By The Associated Press

RENO, Nev., March 15—For 36 hours, onlookers reported, an unidentified man sat at a table and played dice, sending for coffee and never eating, and lost $196,000.

That comes to spending money at the rate of $5,444.44 an hour.

The game ended with a roll of a single dice. Each got an ace. In the roll-off, the house man got a trey, the guest—described as an easterner—a deuce.

Club owners would not identify the player nor confirm his losings.

Dormitory ought for Factory Use

By The Associated Press

NEWPORT, R. I.—Mayor Herbert E. Macauley is dickering with a Fall River, Mass., realtor about reconverting a former servicewomen's dormitory to a factory that will employ more than 200.

The Perry Mill on Thames St. had been vacant for years before the government made it into a dormitory early in the war at a cost of $120,000.

Mayor Macauley appealed to the Federal Housing Authority in Boston to declare the property "surplus" and "relieve the serious unemployment in Newport."

Woman Wed Six Times Unknown to Marionites

Marion received what is apparently unwarranted publicity in Sunday's American Weekly magazine when an article entitled "New Marital Musts of Monaci" by Irving Johnson mentioned the paper box heiress as the "dark and piquant daughter of the late L. H. Lindley, rich Marion, O., manufacturer."

Inquiries around Marion today could locate no one who knew of a L. H. Lindley living here. Since there are more than 30 Marions in the United States, it is believed the author was referring to another city.

Six times a bride and now an ex-wife for the sixth time in nine years, Monaci Lindley Groves Peterson Rice Cupit Heinzeman Perl maintains she still is looking for the right man, and she believes that someday he will come.

INDIA AGAIN HEARS OFFER OF FREEDOM

By The Associated Press

NEW DELHI, March 25—Britain's cabinet mission reaffirmed today the London government's pledge of independence for India, if she wants it.

Lord Pethick-Lawrence, flanked by A. V. Alexander and Sir Stafford Cripps, told nearly 300 correspondents in a prepared statement that "the discussions now to begin are preliminary to the setting up of machinery whereby the forms under which India can realize her full independent status can be determined by Indians."

Pethick-Lawrence, who is secretary of state for India, recalled Prime Minister Attlee's recent speech in the house of commons that Indians can have complete independence if they want it, and added "we believe ourselves that India will find great advantages in remaining within the free association of the British commonwealth. But it is a free association and we have no desire to press India to stay within it against her considered judgment."

The mission aims at making the necessary interim arrangements quickly and with a "minimum of disturbance," he said.

Postwar Marines' Feet Show Improvement

By The Associated Press

OCEANSIDE, Calif.—The Marine Corps' postwar feet are improving, says Lt. (jg) Turcheon, chiropodist, who has seen many a pair march to war and come limping home.

The Camp Pendleton training and replacement specialist credited the improvement to a reduction of combat training and the replacement of battle veterans by younger men.

This, he explained, was tending to eliminate marching fracture—the most common Leatherneck foot ailment during the war.

Turcheon based his conclusion on examination of 30,000 feet which, with their 150,000 toes, he estimates, would reach five miles if placed end to end.

High Blood Pressure

A Warning of Dangerous Complications

If you suffer from High Blood Pressure, and have been unable to improve your condition with old style methods—then take time out now and ask yourself "Why has not my condition improved?"

High Blood Pressure is a warning that something is wrong with your system—something, if let go, may lead to Hardening of the Arteries, a Stroke, Paralysis, Heart Trouble, Kidney Disease, or other grave conditions.

Drugs and medicines that give only temporary relief will not do one bit of good toward removing the causes of your trouble. You must remove or allay the cause of your trouble.

The Ball Clinic, through its system of Health Correction, combined with the World's Famous Mineral Waters and Baths of Excelsior Springs, has developed a new method of treating High Blood Pressure. Every day remarkable results are being achieved with sufferers regaining better health.

AMAZING FREE BOOK

In response to the great many who have written them about their modern methods of helping High Blood Pressure sufferers to better health, the Ball Clinic has prepared an Amazing Free Book entitled "High Blood Pressure—The Killer." It tells how their modern methods correct basic conditions and troubles—how it may be possible for you to find comforting relief, better health and a new outlook on life. There is no obligation. This instructive book may save you years of untold misery. Write today to BALL CLINIC, DEPT. 886, Excelsior Springs, Missouri.

"the autonomy of northern Azerbaijan."

The broadcast said Iran's "policy toward oil concessions might be revised in such a way as to reassure Soviet concern over the security of the Baku-Turkemian oilfields—and possibly more than that."

The reference to oil suggested that Russia might acquire concessions in northern Iran, sought unsuccessfully in 1944. The Anglo-Iranian Oil Co., in which the British government holds 11,250,000 shares of common stock, presently has the only concessions in Iran.

Soviet Withdrawal To Satisfy British IF It Comes True

By The Associated Press

LONDON, March 25—A Russian announcement that Red army troops are withdrawing from Iran drew approval today for unofficial British sources, who said the statement, if borne out by actual performance, would be a satisfactory answer to Britain's recent protest to Moscow.

The announcement was made last night by the Moscow radio, which said:

"Evacuation of Soviet troops from the regions of Meshed, Shahrud and Samnan, which started March 2, is already completed.

"The evacuation of remaining Soviet troops started on March 24, according to an agreement with the Iranian government. The Soviet command of Soviet troops in Iran believes that the complete evacuation of Soviet troops will be concluded within five to six weeks if nothing unforeseen happens."

A dispatch from Tehran, filed approximately nine hours before the broadcast was recorded here, quoted Premier Ahmed Quavam or Iran as saying that "up to the present we have no official reports of Soviet troop movements out of Iran."

Qavam denied reports that direct negotiations were still underway with Russia and indicated that the next moves were up to Russia or to the security council of the United Nations which meets today in New York.

The premier had indicated Saturday, however, that the withdrawal might come soon.

UNO Staff Rushes to Complete Plans Up to Last Minute

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 25—United Nations headquarters staff rushed last minute preparations for the opening of the security council of 11 men.

Most of the secretaries and UNO personnel arrived early. A few workmen and cleaning women were still scattered through the three buildings at Hunter college.

Detectives searched the main building in a final security move. Gate guards admitted no one without credentials.

The picked honor guard of 75 Marines, bedecked with war decorations, were at their posts.

First tangible evidence to passersby of the momentous meeting was the hoisting of the flags of the 51 United Nations around the campus circle. Under alphabetical procedure, Australia drew the honor of having its flag go up first.

UNO transportation officials assembled 60 cars to carry delegates and top officials the approximate eight miles from midtown Manhattan hotels. The delegates, invited to lunch with Secretary-General Trygve Lie, were due an hour before the opening.

UNO officials said about 200 reporters would be admitted to the first session. More than 500 writers have been accredited, but space limitations caused sharp cuts.

Young People Buck for Seats at UNO

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 25—Young America, represented by high school boys, predominated this rainy morning in the line waiting outside Hunter college for the 45 coveted spectators' seats at the United Nations security council meeting.

Although sessions were scheduled to begin at 2:30 p. m., first arrivals showed up only an hour after midnight. By 7 a. m. 15 persons were in line.

Among the first in line were Ralph Sherman, 18, and his brother Irving Sherman, 16, who arrived shortly after 1 a. m.

Louis Ricciardelli, 41, native of Italy, was the first adult in line. He had with him a letter from UNO acknowledging receipt of a song for which he wrote the words, "World's Peace," which he sent to the London UNO meeting.

Quick End Seen to Red-Iranian Fuss

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, March 25—A Tass announcement that Red army forces are withdrawing from Iran brought from well-informed foreign diplomatic observers today the prediction that the entire Iranian-Russian question would shortly be settled to the satisfaction of both countries.

These observers acclaimed the Tass announcement as a healthy sign. The development, coupled with the news that the Red army also is withdrawing from Manchuria, was given wide publicity and contributed to a general easing of tension.

Both Chinese and Iranian circles expressed satisfaction.

Tass said the withdrawal from Iran was being carried out in accordance with an agreement with the Iranian government and predicted it would be completed within the next five or six weeks if nothing unforeseen takes place.

The Russian press gave prominence to Tass dispatches from Tehran quoting Iranian Premier Ahmed Qavam as telling a press conference last Saturday he believed a satisfactory solution to the dispute with Russia would be found.

BAN ON COMMERCIAL BUILDING DUE SOON

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 25 — Housing Administrator Wilson Wyatt said today the government expects to complete within the next two days an order limiting new building construction to essential residential and business structures.

Wyatt, addressing a conference on state apprenticeship agencies, said the order will permit completion of construction already begun, but he emphasized that planned non - essential buildings "must be deferred."

The action, Wyatt explained, is designed to channel into essential veterans housing such materials as now are available in the construction industry.

Wyatt, stressing the need for labor to complete the national housing program, said he expects a total of 2,150,000 new workers will be necessary to complete the program. This would include, he said, about 1,150,000 in actual construction work and another 1,000,000 in factories producing building materials.

Senator Barkley (D-Ky) said after a White House call that he expects the senate banking committee to complete work this week on pending housing legislation.

The senate majority leader said he thought the committee would report both the emergency housing program embodies in the Patman bill and the Wagner-Ellender-Taft long range housing measure.

OHIO VET HELD IN SLAYING OF FATHER

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 25—Homicide Detective John L. Curtis said today that Charles Young, 19, would be charged with slaying his father.

Young admitted shooting Millard F. Young yesterday, Curtiss said, because "he was going to kill my mother."

The detective said he wished to conduct a "few more investigations" before deciding whether the charge would be first degree murder or second degree.

The detective gave this version of the shooting:

The father, 44-year-old Pennsylvania railroad brakeman, returned home early yesterday and began quarreling with his wife about "not unlocking the door," when he knocked.

Mrs. Young said her husband lunged at her and she struck him across the hand with a poker. As Young knocked the poker from her hands Charles said he fired five times at his father with a .32 caliber revolver.

Charles then summoned police.

Mrs. Young told police her husband frequently had threatened to "kill her" and "cut her to pieces" and that she had filed divorce proceedings last October. The action was dropped when he promised to stop drinking, she said.

Young who served aboard an aircraft carrier for three years until his discharge Feb. 18, told detectives:

"I did it to protect my mother. He was going to kill her."

RAILWAY UNION CHIEF DEMANDS NEW RULE

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, March 25—A. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, today accused the nation's railroads of operating inefficiently and declared adoption of 45 work rules changes proposed by two unions would "materially benefit all concerned."

The railroads, said Whitney, "have proposed 29 rules changes which, if adopted, would destroy beneficial working conditions that have been obtained during the past 50 years."

Whitney, summoned before a fact-finding board investigating demands of the trainmen and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, contended in prepared testimony "the railroads are not being operated and will continue to be operated inefficiently, extravagantly and not in the interests of the general public, railroad stockholders and the employes.

"I would not be surprised if the railroads at this time were making $2,000,000 a day," he declared.

WORLD TRAVEL FOR YOU!

For generations the imagination of American youth has turned to adventure in far-away places. Now . . . today . . . those dreams can come true.

A 3-year enlistment in the Regular Army means that you can choose your arm or branch of service and your overseas theater. It means thorough training in one of over 200 skilled trades. And it means that, under the GI Bill of Rights, you will be able to complete your education when your term of enlistment is up. You can get the complete details, without obligation, at your nearest Army Recruiting Station.

Highlights of the Armed Forces Voluntary Recruitment Act

1. Enlistments for 1½, 2 or 3 years. (One-year enlistments permitted for men who have been in the Army six months.)

2. Enlistment age from 18 to 34 years inclusive (17 with parents' consent) except for men now in Army, who may reenlist at any age, and former service men depending on length of service.

3. An increase in the reenlistment bonus to $50 for each year of active service since such bonus was last paid, or since last entry into service.

4. Up to 90 days' paid furlough, depending on length of service, with furlough paid to home and return, for men now in the Army who reenlist.

5. A 30-day furlough every year at full pay.

6. Mustering-out pay (based upon length of service) to all men who are discharged to reenlist.

7. Option to retire at half pay for the rest of your life after 20 years' service—increasing to three-quarters pay after 30 years' service. (Retirement income in grade of Master or First Sergeant up to $155.25 per month for life.) All previous active federal military service counts toward retirement.

8. Benefits under the GI Bill of Rights for men who enlist before October 6, 1946.

9. Family allowances for the term of enlistment for dependents of men who enlist or reenlist before July 1, 1946.

10. Choice of branch of service and overseas theater on 3-year enlistments.

11. Reserve and A. U. S. commissioned officers released from active duty may be enlisted in Grade 1 (Master Sergeant) and still retain their reserve commissions.
